Reformatory Farm Head and Family Feared Abducted

Interior of Home Is Topsy-Turvy With Evidence It Had Been Looted; Check on Former Prisoners Begun

MANSFIELD, July 21—(AP)—The superintendent of the Mansfield reformatory's 1600-acre prison farm, his wife and 22-year-old daughter were missing today, and officials indicated they had been forcibly taken from their home.

Missing were John E. Niebel, aged 50, connected with the farm since 1928; his wife, and their 22-year-old daughter, Phyllis.

Sheriff Frank E. Robinson said the Niebel home at the prison farm had been ransacked, all doors left open, looted purses of all three occupants deposited on a dining room table, but that the automobiles of the father and daughter were in the garage.

Day's most touching scene in the Record-Herald office: Jack Eisen giving a poor little captive bug a drink with a paste brush.

Jack, a big 6 foot, 4 inch reporter from California, took pity on the tiny creature in the glass jar someone had left on his desk. He had been worrying about it all morning. Then, when no one was looking, he took the brush out of his paste jar and washed it out painstakingly. With the cleaned brush saturated with water, he took off the lid of its prison and held it inside.

To his surprise—and that of the rest of us who by this time had caught on to what was going on—the bug climbed right up the blades of grass it was supposed to feed on and drank long and heartily.

Well, I guess everyone in the office felt better after that. I'm sure the little insect did.

Who put him in the jar and who left him on the desk, remains a mystery. He's going to be free in a few minutes, however. I hope he'll be happy in his new home in the city, for I'm sure he must have been a suburbanite.

It is really flattering to have bugs and such brought in for identification, but the best we can do is search the colored plates in the office dictionaries and entomologist, geologist or botanist. None of us here now is either entomologist, geologist or botanist. But, it is fun and with the help of the reference books we usually can come up with something satisfactory to us at least—that will stand until a specialist who knows sets us right.

Incidentally, Jack is winding up his tour of duty with the Record-Herald this week. He has been here for two four-month periods as a co-op journalism student from Antioch College at Yellow Springs.

He's going to take a co-op job on the San Rafael Independent in his California home town on his next work period.

We'll miss Jack. He's a good newspaper man already—and still going to school. The Record-Herald's loss will be the Independent's gain. I, for one, look for Jack to go far and on up in his chosen work.

His successor from Antioch is to be Doug Moore, an Ohioan and a war veteran. He is married and has a little girl.

American Women Missing in China

PEIPING, July 21—(AP)—Eight American evacuees from Red besieged Taiyuan, Shansi Province capital, were safe here today but four others, all women missionaries are missing.

Five of the eight rescued are missionaries, one is a nurse and two are children. They are Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Wampler and their two children, Joseph, 15, and Eugene, 13, from Harrisonburg, Va.; Oliver Clark Solenberger of Los Gatos, Calif.; John William Detrick of Alliance, Ohio; William Satterthwaite of Yardley, Pa.; and Nurse Isabel Hemingway of Washington, D. C.

Child Born in Hospital And Mother Vanishes

PORTSMOUTH, July 21—(AP)—Hospital officials today sought to trace a young woman who gave birth to a baby boy Monday 10 minutes after arrival at the hospital, and then disappeared. She told nurses "my mother will come after the baby."

HELD in Long Beach, Cal., Dorothy Verlene Sawyers, 20, is shown in jail trying to figure out her marital status. She was arrested and charged with bigamy following a meeting of two men who described themselves as her husbands. She is credited with having been married five times. (International)

Governor Denies Plea by Cities

Difficulty Found In Sale Tax Cut

COLUMBUS, July 21—(AP)—Gov. Thomas J. Herbert today refused a request of the Association of Ohio Municipalities to have the special session of the legislature, convening tomorrow consider giving local governments additional state funds.

"As of now," the governor told a group of association representatives, "I can't see the urgency you represent, and for that reason I must keep my call in its original form."

Mayor Thomas A. Burke of Cleveland told the governor that Cleveland would be short about $500,000 in relief funds this year. The governor told Burke: "If your situation gets worse along about November, I'll be ready to listen to you again."

Mayor Carl W. Rich of Cincinnati said his city would "be all right this year, but with the same expenditures next year we expect a $750,000 to $1,000,000 deficit."

The governor admitted that a snarl had been encountered in drafting a measure to eliminate the first one percent sales tax bracket.

Measures have been drawn up, however, for enactment of two other proposals in the governor's three-point special legislative session program. They call for increasing old age pensions and aid to the blind and appropriating additional funds for the welfare department.

The governor said he was not committed to a proposal to amend the election code to permit Henry A. Wallace's third party on the November election ballot. He indicated that special session plans would not have to await a decision by the Ohio Supreme Court in the suits to get Wallace's party on the ballot.

Bumper Wheat Crop in Ohio Indicated as Harvest Ending

COLUMBUS, July 21—(AP)—Glowing reports of Ohio's bumper wheat crop continued to come from all sections of the state today.

Three elevators in Upper Sandusky set a record Monday, receiving a total of 65,000 bushels of wheat in a single day. The elevators were kept busy from 6 A. M. until 10 P. M., unloading every type of truck, trailer and farm wagon.

It was 2 A. M. Tuesday when the elevators had their books balanced, officials of the U. S. Commission Co., elevator operators, reported. More than 400 vehicles were unloaded by two of the elevators Monday. Some came with farmers, their wives and children riding on trucks.

In Marysville, Union County, Harry P. Clouse, president of the Ohio Grain Co., said "this year's wheat crop has, so far, been one of the best we have ever handled." His firm operates elevators in Marysville, Milford Center, North Lewisburg and Mechanicsburg.

Recent rains will affect the quality of the little grains that remain unharvested, he said, but up to now, the crop is about as good as any farmer could ask.

"The harvest this year has been yielding as high as 43 and 45 bushels per acre," he said. "The average is more than 30 bushels against an average of 20 to 25 bushels in an ordinary year."

He said the grain is testing 58-63 pounds per bushel, compared with the ordinary 58-60.

14 Paint Firms Charged With Fixing Prices

Twenty Officials Of Companies Named In Indictments

PITTSBURGH, Pa., July 21—(AP)—Firms which make nearly half the nation's paints, varnishes and lacquers, and the men who run them were under indictment today—charged with a conspiracy to fix the prices of their products.

A federal grand jury, acting on complaints of the U. S. Government, handed down the indictments in U. S. District Court yesterday, naming 14 major paint companies and 20 officials.

These companies, the indictments said, handled more than 45 per cent of the nation's billion dollar yearly paint business.

Attorney General Tom Clark said the cases were a part of the government's anti-trust program aimed at "illegal conspiracies" in the housing fields.

He said commerce department records "indicate that prices in the paint industry rose more rapidly after the removal of OPA ceilings than in any other industry."

The indictments specifically, accused the firms of engaging in "a combination and conspiracy to fix, stabilize, maintain and control the prices, discounts, allowances and terms of sale" of their products.

The firms, the indictments said, agreed "to exchange with each other information about prices charged x x x and other factors affecting prices."

In Cleveland, spokesmen for two of the companies under indictment protested there was no basis for the charges.

Phew, What A Relief!

Radio Quiz Prize Is Accepted To Buy Home or for Vacation

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., July 21—(AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Jack L. Adams put their $7,300 radio quiz prize in the bank today "to get it out of the way."

"We slept like babies last night," blonde Dorothy Adams reported.

It was the first time they'd had a chance to take it easy since Adams won the money (on Mutual Broadcasting Company's "Three for the Money" show) Saturday night.

The deluge of telephone calls which followed put the Adamses in such a dither that they decided to refuse the money. A radio man from New York, Mayor Douglas C. Tomkies, and a local station manager finally persuaded them to keep it.

The telephone company agreed not to put through any more calls. Radio stations broadcast appeals that they not be bothered.

"The relief has been wonderful," said Mrs. Adams.

What are they going to do with the money?

"Buy a little house," said Dorothy.

"Take the best vacation we ever had," said Jack, who is a $39-a-week cable splicer for the telephone company.

"Yes, a vacation," said Dorothy. "We both need it."

Minneapolis Hit By Severe Storm

MINNEAPOLIS, July 21—(AP)—Lightning that accompanied thunderstorms knocked out communications and electric service in several areas of Minneapolis last night.

Heavy rainfall in suburban Anoka, Hopkins and Wayzata stranded numerous cars on highways as the water surged up to the hubcaps of the machines.

Highway traffic in the Stillwater area, north of nearby St. Paul also was halted.

Lightning struck power company transformers in Hopkins and Columbia Heights, suburbs of the city and in the north section of Minneapolis, leaving householders without service.

Frau Goering Freed After Conviction

GARMISH-PARTENKIRCHEN, Germany, July 21—(AP)—Ernst Goering, widow of Hitler Germany's No. 2 Nazi, was convicted today of being a Nazi, but was set free immediately.

She got a sentence of one year in a labor camp from a Garmish denazification court but was freed since she already has spent 18 months in camp awaiting trial.

Communists in U. S. Being Rounded Up

"MASTER CELLS" are what John Brown, former pharmacist and now a Middleboro, Mass., farmer, holds. His own discovery, they're in a colloidal solution and contained in a cement matrix. He claims the cells' effect shot his corn up five feet in seven weeks. Joseph Correia, a veteran, said "celled" water cured his malaria. Now ailing people are beating a path to Brown's door. WASHINGTON, July 21—(AP)—The White House said today that President Truman will deliver personally to Congress next Tuesday his appeal for anti-inflation legislation and other measures.

Mr. Truman will address a joint session of the two houses at 11 A. M. (EST).

The time for his appearance Tuesday was decided upon after telephone consultation with both Republican congressional leaders and leaders of the Democratic minority.

Congress will convene Monday in answer to Mr. Truman's call.

Gov. Thomas E. Dewey, the Republican presidential nominee, is reported favoring a brief GOP lawmaking program and a quick end to the session. His friends say he feels that GOP leaders, after hearing Mr. Truman's message, should be able to agree on a brief outline of measures that can be passed without long delay.

Presidential Secretary Charles G. Ross said the president is now drafting an anti-inflation bill dealing with rising prices. Ross declined to give any details of that measure.

He said the president will talk with Gen. Lucius D. Clay, U. S. occupation commander at Berlin, in advance of his appearance before Congress. Clay was due in Washington today.

At the same time, Ross would not disclose the extent to which bi-partisan foreign policy will figure in Mr. Truman's talk to the legislators.

He said Mr. Truman will ask Congress to remove what the chief executive has described as discriminations in the recently enacted displaced persons bill.

The measure, which the president said he signed with reluctance, will allow admission of 200,000 displaced persons to the U. S.

Ross said the president also will call for:

Steel Prices Are Increased

NEW YORK, July 21—(AP)—United States Steel Corporation today raised its prices an average of $9.34 a ton.

The advance wiped out a cut of $1.25 a ton put into effect in April by U. S. Steel subsidiaries.

Benjamin F. Fairless, president of the firm, said in a statement yesterday the April price reduction was "part of an unsuccessful effort by these subsidiaries to aid in retarding further increases in the cost of living."

The April reduction was linked with a refusal to raise wages and salaries. But last Friday U. S. Steel raised the wages of 170,000 production workers in the CIO's United Steel Workers Union by 9 percent and forecast a compensating price boost.

Enlistments Opened to 18-year-olds

WASHINGTON, July 21—(AP)—The Armed Forces opened their ranks today for 161,000 American 18-year-olds to volunteer for a special one-year hitch and thus avoid a two-year draft later.

The volunteers may, up to a point, pick the branch of service they wish to join. But the new draft law limits the annual total of the special enlistments to 110,000 for the army; 36,000 for the navy, including 6,000 for the marines, and 15,000 for the air force.

For the first four weeks, beginning today, the army will accept 10,000 men; the navy-marines 3,000 and the air force 1,300. Enlistments will be conducted by regular recruiting officers and qualified youths will be accepted in the order in which they apply.

After their one year's service—to be confined to the continental limits of the United States—the 18-year-olds must spend from four to six years in an organized reserve unit.

The peacetime draft law requires that all male civilians, 18 through 25, must register, but none can be drafted until reaching the age of 19. Registrations will start August 30, beginning with men of 25 and working down to the 18-year-olds who will begin registering on September 17.

Selective Service officials estimate it will be a month or six weeks before they can set up machinery to govern classification and deferments.

They do not, however, disguise their concern that it might lead to war.

Their determination is that if there is to be shooting the blame must rest upon Russia and not upon the western powers.

As one informant put it: "If the Russians want a war at this time they can get it, but they will have to bring it about themselves."

The only major weakness which authorities here see in the current position of the western powers remains the point of open fighting.

Six Top Leaders Under Arrest For Advocating Revolution and Six More of High Command Indicted

NEW YORK, July 21—(AP)—Bail of $5,000 each was posted today for six top Communist leaders under indictment on charges of advocating the violent overthrow of the U. S. government.

The six, headed by Communist Party Chairman William Z. Foster, were arrested last night shortly after a federal grand jury indicted 12 of the party's high command.

The $30,000 bail for the six was posted in U. S. treasury bonds by Robert W. Dunn, treasurer of the civil rights, Congress, when they appeared before Federal Judge Vincent L. Liebelle.

Freed on bail besides Foster were Eugene Dennis, general secretary of the Communist party; John Williamson, national labor secretary; Jacob Stachel, chairman of the party's department of agitation, publication and education; New York City councilman Benjamin J. Davis, chairman of the party's legislative committee; and Henry Winston, organizational secretary.

A seventh Carl Winters, chairman of the Michigan state council of the party, was seized in Detroit last night. The other five are being sought.

The arrests, one of the sharpest blows yet struck against organized Communism in this country, brought an immediate, strongly worded protest from national headquarters of the party.

It described the indictments as a "monstrous frame-up" and said the arrests were part of a plan by President Truman to embarrass the New Party of Henry A. Wallace.

Foster and others indicted are specifically accused of "conspiring to teach and advocate the overthrow of the United States government by force and violence."

The seven under arrest were arraigned last night on the charges and all pleaded innocent.

Of those arrested here, five were taken into custody at Communist national headquarters in lower Manhattan. The sixth, Councilman Davis, was arrested at his Harlem home.

All those indicted by the grand jury, which had been investigating for about a year, were identified by federal officials as members of the Communist party's national board. Davis and Winston are (Please Turn to Page Two)

Truman To Ask Inflation Curbs

Dewey Takes Stand Against Long Session

Clouds of War In Europe Grow More Menacing

U. S. Stands Firm But Allies Weaken; Situation Delicate

BY RICHARD KASISCHKE
BERLIN, July 21—(AP)—The British-licensed press said today the Russians are preparing to pull switches and signal equipment on the railroad to Berlin, if the western allies try to force their way through the Soviet blockade.

Meanwhile the Russians, who already have offered to feed all Berlin, hinted through their controlled press that they may offer electric power for the entire city, including the Soviet blockaded western sectors.

The British-controlled newspaper Telegraph said German railway officials have received orders to prepare detailed plans of rail lines running to the western borders of the Russian occupation zone.

Red Claim Disproved

The British-licensed German news agency said the closed Helmsstedt line to Berlin was in good shape and needed no repairs as the Russians have claimed. The agency said it received its information from rail officials in the Soviet Union.

German press reports also said the Russians are strengthening border barricades on the frontiers with the American occupation zone to reduce German interzonal travel.

Gen. Lucius D. Clay, American military governor in Germany, and his political adviser, Robert Murphy, are en route to Washington by plane to report on the growing Berlin crisis. Clay is expected to return to Berlin Sunday.

More Jets On Way

Before the American commander left Frankfurt last night, it was announced that the United States is sending 75 more jet-propelled fighters to reinforce its aerial strength in Germany. Sixteen other jets arrived in Stornoway, Scotland, last night. They also are slated for duty in Germany.

The sudden summons of Clay to Washington appeared to foreshadow the planning of new steps to end the blockade.

The five member nations of the western European union reportedly have agreed to oppose any show of force against the Russians in Germany. The members, who have been meeting in the Hague, are Britain, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The U. S. and Britain are still managing to surmount the blockade with their air lift. Yesterday the shuttle set a new record in hauling supplies to some 2,000,000 beleaguered Berliners.

U. S. MAPS PLANS

WASHINGTON, July 21—(AP)—American officials are readying diplomatic moves today in a determined effort to settle the Berlin crisis short of war.

These moves, including a new note to Moscow, grow out of a new, three-point policy for dealing with the extremely dangerous situation in the Russian-blockaded German capital.

Authorities familiar with the latest developments say the policy covers an absolute determination "not to be kicked out of Berlin."

But, they add, it also embraces equally strong decisions (A) to seek a peaceful solution to the crisis and (B) to use caution and restraint in both action and words so that the Soviets will be given no possible excuse for making the situation worse.

The nature of the basic policy decisions became known here shortly after officials disclosed that top American authorities in Germany had been ordered home for a quick series of talks.

At the moment, ranking officials here are still hopeful that the Berlin crisis can be settled before it reaches the point of open fighting.

They do not, however, disguise their concern that it might lead to war.

Their determination is that if there is to be shooting the blame must rest upon Russia and not upon the western powers.

As one informant put it: "If the Russians want a war at this time they can get it, but they will have to bring it about themselves."

The only major weakness which authorities here see in the current position of the western powers remains the point of open fighting.

The Nation Today

BY JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON, July 21—(P)—While the politicians beat one another over the head with sticks, the public can sit back, grin and say:

"Well, maybe we'll get some good out of this special session of Congress, no matter what happens to the fortunes of the Democrats or Republicans."

If the special session is really necessary—and if it does something for the general welfare—than the public benefits.

And that's the main point.

Right now the politicians are arguing, with a lot of noise, about President Truman's calling the special session.

The argument goes something like this:

He pulled a cheap political trick in calling the Republican-controlled Congress back into session because he only wants to embarrass the Republicans and build up campaign ammunition for his own reelection.

Or—

He pulled a smart stunt in calling the special session because in this way he can try to force the Republicans to show whether they really mean the promises they made in their 1948 campaign platform.

The background of the special call is simple to state:

Mr. Truman, a Democratic president, last November recommended to the Republican Congress that it do a number of things he considered important.

For example: Give him power to control prices, if and when he thought necessary; set up a big housing program; help education; and so on.

The Republican-controlled Congress ignored most of his recommendations and quit for the rest of 1948—or thought it did—when it adjourned in June.

So a great many of the Truman recommendations were shoved aside. And, of course, the argument starts right there:

Were they worthwhile recommendations? Should Congress have acted on them? Was Congress right in ignoring them?

Then the Democrats and Republicans had their conventions in Philadelphia and drew up their party platforms.

Those platforms, as such platforms always go, are a collection of promises each party said it would work on if it won the election next November.

Both platforms, in one form or another, contained some of the recommendations made last fall by Mr. Truman but ignored by Congress.

But the party winning control of the government in the November elections won't take office till next January.

So that means—if no special session had been called—that the party victorious in November couldn't start carrying out any of its platform promises till next January.

And, knowing how slowly Congress works, that would mean

New Gas Main Going in Here

Increased Pressure Is Primary Purpose

Work is progressing on the new gas line which will eventually relieve the low gas pressure situation that has existed in the south and central parts of Washington C. H., A. E. Weatherly, district manager of the Dayton Power and Light Company, said today.

The four-inch medium pressure main will carry from 25 to 40 pounds of pressure, Weatherly said, and will run parallel to the old line.

The new line will begin at the corner of Paint and North North Streets, run south to East Street and then west to the DP&L substation. Workmen started laying the new line just north of Court Street, however, in order to get it under the street before the resurfacing was done several weeks ago. They are now working on East Street, between North and North North Streets.

It was estimated that six weeks would be required for the job, Weatherly said, and the work is about half completed now.

Pay Raises Are Asked

SPRINGFIELD, July 21—(P)—Springfield firemen and police yesterday asked the city for salary increases which City Manager Oscar L. Fleckner said would average $65 a month.

nothing done on the big issues till many months after January.

Then Mr. Truman stepped into the picture and, in effect, told the Republicans:

"All right, you said that if elected you'd do a lot of things I've already said needed doing months ago. Why wait till next year to do any of them?"

"You control Congress right now. So come back into special session and carry out now—instead of waiting till next year, if you win—the things the Democratic and Republican platforms and myself said ought to be done."

But, going back to the beginning, the main point is this: What differences does it really make to the public who wins—Republicans or Democrats—or which side gets the most political good out of the special session if that special session does things which are necessary—if they're necessary—for the public good?

At this point it's getting a little comical—or is it sad?—To hear the politicians on both sides arguing about "who's putting whom over a barrel."

The only thing really important is the public welfare. A political party's only excuse for existence at all is to carry out the will of the majority and provide for the public welfare.

If the Democrats or Republicans use the special session for campaign purposes, instead of for the public good, then they're trying to hoodwink the very people they're supposed to be serving.

Fayette Girl Named To Teaching Vacancy

Miss Mildred Simerl of Bloomington has been appointed science teacher at Madison Rural School, Madison County.

Her appointment was announced in London by W. C. Smith, county superintendent of schools. A graduate of Bloomington High School, class of 1944, Miss Simerl continued her schooling at Capital University and graduated in 1947.

Since that time, she has taught in Somerset, Perry County. Madison Rural School, three miles from London, was established six years ago as a consolidation of a number of small, one-room institutions in the district.

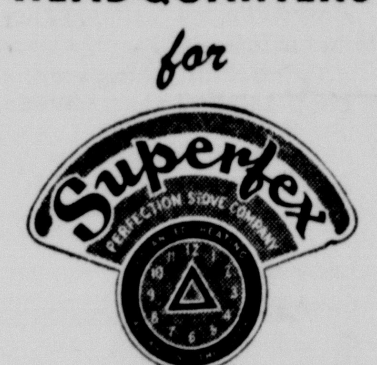

Miss Simerl will make her home in London. She is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Simerl of the Danville Road.

With her appointment and that of another instructor in the county, Supt. Smith said there remain only six teaching positions in the county school system to be filled.

Insurance Deadline Is Big Problem Now

"Second in importance only to the GI insurance deadline is the time limit put on applications for terminal leave pay—September 1, 1948," Miss Mary Robinson, in charge of the Washington C. H. Red Cross office, said today.

"Families of veterans as well as veterans themselves often come to the chapter for consultation and assistance in filling out forms necessary for terminal leave pay," she declared.

"Assistance in filling in forms is only one of several ways the Red Cross Home Service can help a family," Miss Robinson pointed out. "Often the wife of a totally disabled veteran needs help in deciding a technical matter or filing a claim in his behalf, but does not know just how to begin."

Miss Robinson said that the Red Cross obligation to assist all servicemen, veterans and their families is a charter obligation. No two problems coming to the office are identical and, therefore, each case is handled according to the needs of the individual. "For this reason," Miss Robinson said, "we ask that any veteran, serviceman, or member of his family seeking help with any problems come to the chapter personally at 207 North Hinde Street if at all possible."

Appointments can be made by telephone during the hours of 8:30 A. M. and 4:30 P. M. Monday through Friday and until noon on Saturday. The Washington C. H. chapter office is also closed on Thursday afternoons during the summer months.

Laborite T. C. Skeffington-Lodge said today he will ask the chancellor of the exchequer to state how much England is spending in dollars to import beaver meat.

The U. S. forest service estimates that three-quarters of the timber of the timber in Alaskan coastal forests is within two and one-half miles of tidewater.

Presents

"THE BEST IS YET TO COME"

Aditorial Number 5 Of A Series

When those tickets are gone--they're gone!

I gotta warn you about somethin', today!

For the first edition of "The Best Is Yet To Come," superb, big two-hour all-star Hollywood stage show, coming here Wednesday night, August 11th, curtain-time has been set for 8 P. M. prompt. And, I do mean 'prompt.'

The Hollywood producers have warned all chairmen along the tour route that these productions must start exactly on time. That's the way Hollywood does things. Now the curtain won't roll back at 7:59... nor will it be late and at 8:01. It will begin exactly at 8 P. M.--no earlier and no later.

These footlight extravaganzas run exactly two hours--right to the dot. This means you'll be out at 10 o'clock. You can make your plans accordingly.

There are some other things I should mention. I want to warn everyone about the 'sell-outs' these superb shows are enjoying. There is one ticket printed for each seat in the Washington High School auditorium. There isn't a single 'comp' issued to anyone for any reason. The Mayor, the newspaper folks, the chief of police--anyone who sits in a seat--must have a ticket.

The producers won't permit any tickets being 'held back' for 'big shots' who may show up at the last minute. These entertainments are for the public. First come first served. So if you want to see the August 11th show--and I implore you not to miss it--you'll have to get a ticket now. Fire laws prohibit standing room. In every town along the show's route, "The Best Is Yet To Come" is a complete sell-out. Once the ducks are gone--they're gone. No one can get 'an extra ticket' for anyone.

I have some reports where folks who dilly-dallied around and neglected getting tickets in some towns paid outlandish prices at the last minute and this started a 'scalping situation. Our Chief of Police here in Washington C. H. has issued a warning that any local ticket-scalpers will be apprehended and dealt with severely by law. That's as it should be.

The advance mail sale for the Aug. 11th--first edition of "The Best Is Yet To Come" is on, right now. Simply mail your ticket order, enclosing cash or check to: "The Best Is Yet To Come," Box 111, Record-Herald, Washington C. H. Ohio. The committee will mail your tickets to you. They're $1.25, including all tax.

Because of transportation schedules and other difficulties we cannot arrange for more than one performance, August 11th. That's a Wednesday night--and curtain time will be at 8:00 sharp. So if you want to see the finest show in the history of Washington C. H.--a solid two-hour all-stage production featuring a radio-recording name-band and a glorious combination of Hollywood performers, get your tickets now. If you have a ticket--we guarantee you a seat.

And too, you'll certainly want to see Fayette County's first All-American Golden Rule Honor Citizen presented that coveted gold, diamond and ruby pin. You'll want your youngsters to see that it pays to do good--to be good--to be a good neighbor. Mail your ticket-order today.

Join in the fun... enjoy a great show... honor some wonderful neighbor... join this 'Mythical Boosters Club'--help us make Washington, C. H. a better place in which to live and raise a family! We're counting on you!

Company M Deserves Community Support

Listen as you pass the Armory on a Tuesday evening; the sound of rifle cracks, of marching men, the gruff and almost unintelligible command of a "non-com" drilling troops. It is national guard drill night; Company M is on the march!

For, on every Tuesday evening, this group of 70 men gathers together. To some, this duty with the guard is a hobby; to others, it is a sense of duty which calls—or perhaps a touch of jaunty military life to fill an unexciting gap in the daily grind.

Whatever the reason, Company M is on hand to do a job. And that job is being done. What money the government has invested in Fayette County's own military organization is being returned in the form of a well-disciplined, well-trained group which stands ready to bear arms or pile sandbags wherever and whenever the need may arise.

The company has acquitted itself well in wartime. It has done the same in peacetime. Harken back to those dark days of 1913 when Company M, then commanded by Rell G. Allen, moved to the flooded city of Dayton to aid the stricken community. or, more recently, to the flood of 1937 when Company M's services were vitally needed along the banks of the Ohio!

Yes—Fayette County may well be proud of Company M. What it is today is largely the product of the energy, the foresight and the interest of one man: Captain Darrell Williams.

This friendly officer—his fellow officers didn't even recognize him as one of them at a recent get-together, for he had stripped off his insignia to be "one of the gang"—is due the thanks and support of his home community in his efforts to build up Company M.

Perhaps the greatest tribute to his service was that of Darrell Williams' commanding officer in World War II, speaking at this same dinner meeting. The colonel said he would be proud to have his own son serve under Capt. Williams.

Fayette Countians should take this to heart. They should be proud to have their sons serve with him—that word, "with" seems more appropriate than "under"—in Company M, 166th Infantry. The company and its commanding officer deserve the full support of the people they serve!

Russian Harvest

The official Soviet news agency announces that the Russian wheat harvest is far ahead of last year's with all areas reporting bumper crops. From 5,000,000 acres in rural districts grain is said to be pouring into government collection and delivery centers.

This is good news for the rest of the world. Russia, herself hard pressed for food a year or so ago, this year might be able to help feed Europe.

Trees

He who has an opportunity to spend a little vacation time in the forest can say in simple and heart-felt appreciation, "Blessed be trees." The lover of trees spends hours among them, rejoicing in the good fortune which brings him there for a while, away from the confused world of people.

In the forest is an old world made new by ever-renewing growth. There is a freshness in the leaves above, but on the ground below is the soft mould of bygone years.

These are the true parks, and blessed are those fortunate enough to behold them, to see trees for what they are.

Navy research finds the noise of jet aircraft engines does not damage human body tissue. How about the nerves on a Sunday afternoon?

Tiny White Spots On Nails a Symptom

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

THERE has always been a good deal of curiosity as to the white spots that sometimes occur on the nails and, perhaps for lack of other explanation, definite superstitions have grown up about them in some parts of the world. In one locality, for instance, it is believed that the number of spots which can be counted on the nails of an individual indicate the number of years he will live; in others, they are regarded as visible evidence of the lies he has told and, in still others, as that of secret kisses.

Of course, none of these things is true. As a rule, such spots indicate nothing in particular, but, in many instances, they have a meaning for the physician as an indication of some underlying condition which should receive attention.

Common Causes

One of the most common causes of these white spots would appear to be injury to the nail when the root of the nail is pressed on, as is often the case in pressing back the soft tissue behind the nail in manicuring. This pressure and injury may cause the cells to take up an unusual quantity of air which is responsible for the white spots and stripes. This may account for the frequent occurrence of spots on the nails in young girls who are so interested in their nails as ornaments.

White spots on the toe-nails are not nearly as frequent as on the finger-nails, which again would seem to indicate that injury to the nails during manicuring is the most common cause of the white spots.

Severe Fever

As I have mentioned, there are more important causes of these white spots than the nail injuries. They may develop as one of the results of a severe fever. White stripes or coarse ridges on the nails have been observed to develop during severe attacks of typhoid or typhus fever.

Nerve injuries are another cause. They may develop in cases of neuritis produced by an excessive use of alcoholic beverages, or a neuritis caused by arsenic.

In many instances, the exact cause of the white spots on the nails cannot be determined. It would appear that there is a certain group of people who suffer from constipation, indigestion, acne or pimples, and who also have white stripes on the nails.

Excessive Sweating

It is thought that the stripes may develop during the regular monthly periods. It is also noted that the white spots are present in some persons who have excessive sweating. They may occur in those who have a skin disorder known as psoriasis. Eczema, also, may be accompanied by changes in the nails including the formation of white spots.

Excluding the cases which develop as a result of injury, fevers and poisons, white spots on the nails of patients may be a symptom that requires investigation, since they may indicate a more or less persistent state of ill health.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

M. O. H.: What causes a purplish color of the lips?

Answer: This might be due to a general cyanosis, that is, a blue color of the skin, due to some condition which reduces the oxygen supplied to the tissues; for example, asthma or a heart disturbance.

The purplish color might be the result of some local disorder, or perhaps a vitamin deficiency.

A thorough study by your physician would be advisable.

Employment Down But Payrolls Up
COLUMBUS, July 21.—(AP)—Payrolls showed a fractional gain but factory employment in Ohio dropped one percent from April to May, the Ohio State University Bureau of Business Research said today.

Only those making textiles, food products, stone, clay and glass showed employment gains in May. All types of concerns except chemicals, vehicles and miscellaneous manufacturing firms reported payroll increases for the month.

Payrolls continued four percent above the level for the same month a year ago.

Great American Female Face

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK.—(P)—There must be something that can be done about the great American female face.

The map of Europe is always changing. Why can't women change their maps, too?

They're always promising you they will. They get up and say roughly: "Excuse me, I want to go and change my face."

But when they bring it back, there it is again—the same old deadpan they took out with them. Is that a change? Or is it just a case of the man being short-changed?

Let me preach this plea for a change in the great American female face by saying I am no crabbed misogynist, suffering from a lifelong case of frustrated puppy love.

I like women. Some of my wife's best friends are women. I have hit the sawdust for the gentle sex many times, admitting they are kinder and more intelligent than men. And more dependable in the pinches, too.

But why—nay, thrice why—do they cloak their shining personalities, and their wondrous hidden ways, under the mask of the great American female face?

This is the face they wear in public—chin tilted, eyes glazed, mouth frosted in faith disdain, nose help high as if it were being pulled from behind an invisible fishhook.

The native American male has become so accustomed to meeting this face on the street and byways of his land that he unconsciously has come to assume this is the natural expression for a woman to wear. It might be for a Caribbean lady Zombi, but a nice American woman—never.

At this great, glacial, expressionless female face sometimes appalls visiting men from other countries. I asked one wise European what he thought of the women here.

"Will what I say cause any further cuts in the European Recovery Program funds?" he asked. Assured it wouldn't, he said:

"Frankly, they puzzle me. They try extremely hard to dress differently and individually—but they also seem to go to any length to make all their faces look alike. I have difficulty telling them apart except by their clothes."

The gentleman hit his head exactly on the nail, so to speak. Two women who would die rather than be caught wearing the same style hat don't mind at all going through life wearing the same face.

The great American female face can't be blamed on universal imitation of Hollywood's impersonal glamor. It goes deeper than mere identical patterns of rouge and lipstick. Some critics believe it comes from watching mannequins. This theory holds that a woman who buys a dress she saw on a window dummy unconsciously feels she has to don the wooden expression the dummy wore.

Some meanies say women put on this look because they aren't sure of themselves. Others say they do it to avoid wrinkles. I don't know the reason. But I do know it is killing chivalry. Any man knows what I mean who has graciously yielded his seat and been stabbed in return, as by an icicle, by the clammy gaze of the great American female face, guiltless of gratitude.

The girls assemble this frozen face the day they turn from bobby sox to Nylons, and dissemble it only in old age, when they let their natural warm humanity show through again.

Maybe that's why children and old ladies are so popular.

Conventions Amateur Circuses

By George E. Sokolsky

John Ringling North should be elected permanent master of ceremonies of the Republican and Democratic conventions. That would, at any rate, assure a professional touch to the clowning; it would keep the bands playing in tune and time; it would synchronize the program so that it began and ended according to schedule and its numbers would finish on a split second. Circuses should be run by circus men, and these national conventions have degenerated into circuses, designed not to transact important business in an orderly manner but to make noise, create furore, puff up the ego of trivial personalities and to give adults an opportunity to revert to the fun of their childhood.

Fun is fun and nobody can object to a goodly dose of it. But these two parties met a serious moment in the history of their country, in the face of a crisis in Europe, to decide on their principles and to choose four men, two of whom must, by the course of events, be president and vice president of the United States during the next four years. This is important business—so far as most Americans are concerned, probably the most important business that can be transacted in this country this year.

Except as the Jews fought for Israeli resolutions and the southerner fought against the revolution in their society, neither convention, on the floor, produced a serious approach to any of the problems that face this country of the world today. The leading speeches were tawdry in both conventions and it would take considerable study to discover the worst one. The best, of course, was that delivered by Herbert Hoover, which was of the heart. My own reaction—perhaps premature—to the worst was that of Sam Rayburn, although President Truman comes in for consideration, as his so-called "off-the-cuff" act lacked dignity, stature and a sense of fitness of the occasion.

This business of bringing in acts from the cellar of the convention hall to stir up demonstrations is time-wasting and a bore. The first time one sees and hears it, the novelty has some appeal. As soon, however, as it is discovered that it is all pre-arranged, that the delegates are only a side-show, that many of the participants are hired mummeters—then the whole business has to be compared with Mr. North's output at the Barnum and Bailey circus. And it must be admitted that Mr. North does a better job—and it costs less to see.

What is the value of the galleries? If they are spectators, why do they interfere with the proceedings? Why are they permitted to scream and shout and vote "aye" and "nay" as though they were delegates? It was the galleries that shrieked so vociferously when Mayor Hubert Humphrey of Minneapolis made one of the better speeches at the Democratic convention. But what business was it of the spectators to control the climate of a convention?

Even the prayers seemed jaded up. I wonder why the clergy so often feel called upon on such occasions to instruct God on what he should do about it. It would seem to me that the very solemnity of the moment would invoke the best of tastes, which is brevity, particularly while bespeaking the mercy of God on the foolish mortals who love to play with power. It seemed to me that Tom Dewey's prayer was superior to that of any clergyman at either convention, probably because he really was needful of prayer, as any man should be who enters upon such a task.

Why should not both parties spend the next four years studying these meetings and reaching an agreement on how to make the conventions dignified, decently conducted conclaves of their parties engaged in their most serious business? It would probably be necessary to cut the delegations and to reduce the number of spectators. Otherwise Paul Gallico's sage opinion that sooner or later, a convention will consist of reporters, columnists, radio commentators, photographers, television technicians and electricians, will be the fact. As it stands, these convention are an insult to those who attend them and to the voter who hears and watches them on radio and television.

Big Increase Made In Power Farming

KANSAS CITY, July 21.—(AP)—Power farming has made rapid strides in the nation the last year, Implement & Tractor, a farm equipment magazine, reported.

The magazine, in its eleventh annual statistical issue, said there now are 3,114,596 tractors on farms as compared to 2,777,111 a year ago.

It also estimated there are more trucks and cars on farms today than ever before, placing the number of trucks at 2,191,621 and cars at 4,928,127.

The number of farms electrified was given as 3,817,100, representing half the number on the nation. The magazine estimated that 2,265,395 farms have running water.

Radar Keeps Tab On Farm Weather

EL PASO, Ill., July 21.—(AP)—The probing beam of an elaborate radar system now keeps tab on the weather for farmer Lester Pfister.

Pfister, who cultivates almost 5,000 acres of hybrid corn along with many more acres of small grains and hay, installed the equipment at his own expense. He said it helps him decide whether conditions will be suitable for such operations as hay cutting and spraying against insects.

In addition, Pfister has an airplane on his farm ready to go aloft and spread dry ice into clouds to precipitate rain if it should be needed.

Great Salt Lake is fed by four rivers and numerous minor streams and has no outlet.

Corn Loan Plan Is Set Up With Price Support

Good Crop Prospect Seen for County as Announcement Made

With the county's corn well on the way toward a bumper crop this fall, farmers here today could look to the future with assurance that they can either sell or hold it and receive not less than the loan rate.

The 1948 corn crop will be supported at 90 percent of the parity price on Oct. 1, the Department of Agriculture has just announced.

The price will be supported by loans on farm-stored corn and by purchase agreements.

Loans will be available beginning Dec. 1. All loans are to mature Sept. 1, 1949, or early on demand.

Purchase agreements will be offered producers by the Commodity Credit Corp. from Dec. 1 through Dec. 30, the announcement of the program said.

Under these agreements, a producer may sell his corn to the CCC at the loan rate. He need not, however, sell any amount to the federal agency.

By entering into the loan agreement, the producer who desires to hold his corn is assured the price he receives will not be lower than the loan rate.

New Low Effective

This was made possible when the Agricultural Act of 1948 was signed into law by the president. It extends until 1950, with only a slight change, the temporary system of rigid price supports for farm products which has been in effect since early in the war.

The new law also establishes another system of price supports to take effect in 1950.

A statement released by the president soon after signing the bill pointed out, however, that it "does not provide basic declaration of a long-range agricultural policy which is needed to round out the present farm program."

Congress passed the bill just before adjournment to prevent the death of much of the existing farm program, including price supports.

The bill continued the Commodity Credit Corporation (CCC) which is used to carry out the price support law. It makes the secretary of agriculture responsible for supporting the prices of farm products at specified levels, but it dovetails in with legislation that vests control of the CCC in a board of directors.

Previous Legislation

Previously passed legislation prohibits the CCC from continuing its policy of leasing or acquiring land where necessary for storing commodities as close to the farm as possible, the president's statement pointed out. This restriction, it continued, "means that the CCC will have to ship grain for livestock feeding, for example, from farms to distant points for storage and then later ship it back to farm areas."

Price supports are guaranteed by loans at 90 percent of parity. Most present prices, however, are above the loan rates. Here are the most recent available parity declaration declarations on which the 90 percent loan price supports are based: wheat $2.21; corn $1.60; oats 99 cents; soybeans $2.40; potatoes $1.86; hay $29.70; hogs $18.20; cattle $13.60; calves $16.90; lambs 14.70; milk $3.60 Cwt.; chickens 28½ cents a pound; eggs 46.3 cents a dozen and wool 45.8 cents.

Exports Not Cause Of High Meat Price

Total U. S. production of all meats usually consumed by people of this nation is estimated at 23,981,000,000 pounds for the period July 1, 1947 to June 30, 1948. Average annual prewar production was 17,301,000,000 pounds so farmers of this nation provided nearly 50 pounds more meat for every person in the U. S. in the last fiscal year than the prewar annual average.

Exports from the 1947-48 U. S. meat total were 260,000,000 pounds and that was only 39,000,000 pounds more than average prewar annual exports. Shipment of 80,000,000 pounds of horsemeat to foreign countries from the U. S. in 1947-48 is not included in the preceding figures. A drop of about 1,500,000,000 pounds in total U. S. meat production is expected in the year following July 1, 1948, when compared with production for the preceding fiscal year.

Why we sell
Frigidaire
Refrigerators and Only Frigidaire!

There are several reasons why we sell Frigidaire refrigerators exclusively.

One of these is, frankly, more people want to buy Frigidaire refrigerators... they're easiest to sell.

Another is... we want to give the best service possible. And to do this we must sell fine products.

Another reason is, when you select a new Frigidaire refrigerator, you are getting a member of the distinguished "family" of Frigidaire appliances. So when you add other equipment for your kitchen, it can be all "Frigidaire."

But aside from all this, more than 9 million Frigidaires have been built and sold, which is a pretty good indication of just how good they are... and another reason why we sell!

Two Delightful Events Honor Couple On Their 50th Wedding Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Boyer whose golden wedding anniversary occurred Tuesday were honored guests at two lovely events at their home on the Staunton-Sugar Grove Road.

On Sunday members of their family, arranged a covered dish dinner at the noon hour and a sumptuous meal was served buffet style.

Many gifts were bestowed upon the couple and especially admired among the flowers in the home was a beautiful bouquet of roses which was the gift of the WCTU of which Mrs. Boyer was a member as long as her health would permit.

The afternoon was spent in informal visiting and the honor guests were assisted in the hospitalities by their son Mr. Edwin Boyer.

Mrs. Farquhar Is Hostess To Club Members

An almost perfect attendance of the members of the Tuesday Kensington club, were indebted to Mrs. O. D. Farquhar, on Tuesday for a pleasant afternoon when they assembled at her home, for the regular informal get together so much enjoyed by this group of congenial ladies.

Garden flowers in lovely arrangements were admired throughout the rooms, and the usual visiting over the needlework was interrupted by the serving of a tempting dessert course by the hostess who was assisted by her granddaughter, small Holly Jefferson, Mrs. Edgar Snyder and Mrs. G. C. Kidner.

Florida Guests Are Honored

Bluebird Workers Enjoy Outing At Woodyard Cottage

The Bluebird Workers of Cherry Hill spent Tuesday at the Woodyard cottage at Rock Bridge for a day's camping trip.

The day was full of work and play.

Wool flowers and dolls were made under the supervision of Mrs. Norris Highfield, one of the guardians. "Pop, Crackle and Snap" dolls were finished under the guidance of Mrs. Billie Wilson, also a guardian.

The noon meal was served at twelve o'clock and consisted of a substantial menu prepared and served by Mrs. Wilson and Mrs. Woodyard.

A short hike was enjoyed by the group, followed by a forty-five minute rest period. A nature period was climaxed with the coloring of flowers, birds, trees and butterflies, during which the small girls were taught to use the correct colors for each picture and was both educational and interesting.

A mid-afternoon snack of orange cupcakes and iced orange soda, was served, and was followed with a wading party participated in by a part of the group. Later leather bookmarks were made and wash cloths hemmed, and another scrapbook was completed and was donated by Patsy and Marty Woodyard. The projects completed will be displayed at the Fayette County Fair.

The short business meeting was in charge of Mary Agnes Helfrich, during which roll call was responded to with the naming of the event they had enjoyed most during the day.

The usual reports were heard, and the booth at the Fayette County Fair was discussed. The girls decided to dispense with the regular meetings for the coming six weeks.

After games and another short hike, the parents of the children arrived with a bounteous picnic supper, which concluded a "red letter day" in the activities of the Cherry Hill Bluebird Workers.

Auxiliary Members Entertain Patients At VA Hospital

Garden Club Plans Picnic At Meeting

The members of the Marilee Garden Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Everett Rife on Tuesday afternoon for the regular monthly session with 19 members and one guest Mrs. Lulu Free in attendance. Lovely bouquets of summer flowers from the hostess' own garden, and those from the members attending made up the tasteful decorations throughout the rooms.

The newly elected president Mrs. Charles Garringer was in charge of the business session, who appointed Mrs. A. B. Clifford, as publicity chairman, and Mrs. W. W. Herdman as scrap book chairman.

Several members who attended the district officers meeting in Chillicothe recently gave detailed reports on the event. Mrs. Glenn L. Smith, was appointed to have charge of the purchasing of bulbs and shrubs for the club, for the coming year.

Roll call was responded to with the name of a lily.

Mrs. John Rowland was in charge of the program built around the topic "Growing and Re-setting of Lilies," which was followed with a lengthy panel discussion. During the social hour following the hostess, served a dainty dessert course at one long table and two smaller ones, centered with flowers. The August meeting will be a picnic at the Austin Roadside Park.

Mite Society Enjoys Picnic At Nessell Home

Mrs. Jerry Nessell, was hostess to 35 member and guests of the Wesley Mite Society when they assembled at her home in Bloomington on Tuesday for a covered dish luncheon, which was served buffet style from one long table in the dining room, and the group found their places at small tables on the cool veranda to enjoy the delicious repast.

During a short business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Jane Merritt, president, a comforter made by the members was sold at auction, and was purchased by Mrs. Inez Boswell, which added a nice sum to the treasury. The remainder of the afternoon was spent in group singing which was interspersed by a reading by Mrs. Pearl Lemons and Miss Nancy Nessell. Mrs. Nessell, was assisted in the hospitalities by Mrs. John Markley, Mrs. Faith Thompson, Mrs. Roy Weiland, Mrs. Lucy Robinson, Mrs. A. F. McMurry and Mrs. Virgil Boyer. Mrs. J. M. Allernang of Bloomingburg, and Mrs. Robert Andrews were guests and later became members of the society.

Garden Club Plans Picnic At Meeting

The members of the Marilee Garden Club assembled at the home of Mrs. Everett Rife on Tuesday afternoon for the regular monthly session with 19 members and one guest Mrs. Lulu Free in attendance. Lovely bouquets of summer flowers from the hostess' own garden, and those from the members attending made up the tasteful decorations throughout the rooms.

The newly elected president Mrs. Charles Garringer was in charge of the business session, who appointed Mrs. A. B. Clifford, as publicity chairman, and Mrs. W. W. Herdman as scrap book chairman.

Several members who attended the district officers meeting in Chillicothe recently gave detailed reports on the event. Mrs. Glenn L. Smith, was appointed to have charge of the purchasing of bulbs and shrubs for the club, for the coming year.

Cincinnati's Reds found the range with three homers yesterday and took a 9-6 victory from the leading Boston Braves.

8-Run Rally Wins for Jeff; Bakers Lose

The Jeffersonville Merchants turned what might have been the dullest game of the season into one of the most exciting Tuesday night when they overcame an 8-1 lead which the Morton Show Case crew has amassed and went on to win 10-9.

Morton's got off to a good start scoring three runs in the first inning and three more in the second. The boys from Jeffersonville managed to get a man around the bases in the last of the third but Morton's kept their six-run lead by adding another run in the fourth.

Everything was quiet during the fifth and then Morton's made the scoreboard read 8-1 in their favor at the halfway mark in the sixth. The skies began to fall when the Jeffersonville team started a scoring rally that was almost unstoppable. Eight men had come around the bases and Morton's were trailing 9-8.

By tying up the score at 9-8 in the seventh, Morton's clutched at their last hope but they couldn't hold out long enough. The Merchants also scored a run in the seventh to take the lead and win the game.

Coe, Jeffersonville's catcher, took the scoring honors with three hits in as many times at bat.

The Bakers scored a run in the second and the DP&L boys tied it up in the third. The first of the fifth found the Bakers holding a 2-1 lead but the power crew turned on the heat as three men sped around the bases and gave them a 4-2 lead.

Custe, the Bakers' second baseman, led the hitting with two for three.

Kid Softball Game Balked

Old Jupiter Pluvius put the blocks to Wednesday night's Knothole League game. He also balked the second game of the double feature the Hughie Legion and Armbrust teams.

Fred Pierson, the city recreation director, officially called off both games early in the morning while the rain was pouring down on the already soggy field.

The Knothole League game was immediately re-scheduled for next Wednesday night as the first half of a twin bill that had a Drake-DP&L tilt for the nightcap.

No playoff date has been set for the Legion-Armbrust game.

Next Thursday night has been left blank in the schedule because of the Night Fair.

Thursday, July 22 (7:30 P. M.) Pennington vs Morton Drake's vs Lawson Legion line drive from the bat of coach Ray Blades. He is expected to be out for about a week.

Friday, July 23 (7:30 P. M.) Universal vs Jeffersonville Wilmington vs Washington C. H.

The Pirates crushed the Philadelphia Phils, 11-2, in a night game in Pittsburgh. The Pirates clinched the game in the eighth with six runs, three of them coming on Ed Fitzgerald's first home run of the season.

The scheduled game between the Giants and Cardinals in St. Louis was postponed because of rain. The idleness caused the Cards to drop from a three-way tie for second place to fourth.

The oncoming Boston Red Sox gained valuable ground on the three leaders in the American League, picking up a full game on Cleveland, Philadelphia and New York. Joe McCarthy's fourth placers defeated the St. Louis Browns, 8-3, to move within a game of the third place Yankees.

The Yankees bowed to Detroit, 2-1, the same score by which Washington knocked off the first place Indians. The cellar-dwelling Chicago White Sox defeated the runner-up Athletics 5-2. The Indians now enjoy a one game bulge over the A's, lead the Yankees by three and a half games and the Red Sox by four and a half.

Season's Pace Mark Set by Atomic Bomb

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., July 21—(P)—A season record for three-year-old pacers was set by Atomic Bomb last night in winning the $3,000 Sagamore Pace in 2:03 3-5 at Saratoga raceway.

Atomic Bomb, owned by W. N. Reynolds of Winston Salem, N. C. and driven by Del Miller, finished two lengths ahead of the favored Knight dream in the Grand Circuit feature. Navy Hal was third.

Derby Day, owned by A. L. Derby of Wichita, Kan., won the fifth and seventh races, both dashes of the $2,500 Schenectady pace. The four-year-old chestnut raced the first mile in 2:05, and the second, 2:04 4-5.

He's Through With Fighting, Joe Repeats

NEW YORK, July 21—(P)—Joe Louis insisted today he meant "positively" when he stepped down as heavyweight champion but the ring world buzzed excitedly over reports he may come out of moth balls to defend his title again in September.

Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring Magazine, said in a copyrighted article the Brown Bomber would meet light heavyweight champion Gus Lesnevich in Yankee Stadium Sept. 22.

Fleischer added he came to this conclusion after an interview with the champion in which Louis told him:

"Maybe I should meet Lesnevich. I can beat him. I still will be able to retire unbeaten like Gene Tunney."

But in Detroit late yesterday, caught just as he was finishing a round of golf, Louis drove another spike into the comeback talk.

"I don't know where those rumors come from," he said. "I've retired and that's all there is to it."

Only 26 Games Booked for B-G

BOWLING GREEN, July 21—(P)—Bowling Green State University's basketball team will play only 26 games this season, Coach Harold Anderson announced today.

Besides three games in Cleveland with Baldwin-Wallace, Kentucky and John Carroll, the Falcons will appear in New York, Boston, Chicago, Cincinnati, Milwaukee and Toledo.

won the first race, a mile pace, to ring up the highest pari-mutuel pay-off of the season—$109.70. Trusty, owned by Charles N. Lebo of Millersburg, Pa., and driven by Bill Natcher, was coupled with Luke Hanover in the second for a daily double pay-off of $523.20.

Softball Teams Here Invited To Tourney

Softball teams in Fayette County have been invited to enter a tournament which will be staged at the American Legion Park in Hillsboro the last week in July. Nearly $200 in prize money has been offered.

Open to teams throughout this area of Ohio, the meet will be a single elimination affair, scheduled to open Wednesday night, July 28.

The deadline for entries is Saturday noon. An entrance fee of $12.50 has been set. Entries and fees may be sent to Allen (Bud) Stanforth, tourney manager, at Hillsboro.

Prizes to be offered include $100, first prize, $50, second prize, $5, third prize and $12.50, fourth prize.

Tournament officials have announced that no player lists are required and that no drawing will be held. Teams will be paired consecutively as they enter.

All games will be played at night and the number of games each night will depend upon the total number of teams entered. The tourney will continue each consecutive night except Saturday and Sunday.

U. S. Athletes Reach England For Olympics

SOUTHAMPTON, England, July 21—(P)—The bulk of the United States Olympic team—262 athletes—trooped down the gangplank of the S.S. America at 7 A. M. this morning and flocked high-spiritedly through the customs inspections.

An hour after leaving the ship they climbed into a fleet of buses and departed for London. Most of the men went to the Olympic village, a converted RAF center at suburban Unbridge. Most of the girls are being put up at Southlands College in Wimbledon.

There was only one sour note. John Brooks, of Green Farms, Conn., a Yale University rower who is alternate for two and four-oared shells, became ill with a high fever. He was put in an ambulance for the trip to St. Mary's Hospital in London. The nature of his illness awaited diagnosis.

Fancy Stamps Irk Collectors

New Issues Called Joke of System

By SYD KRONISH
NEW YORK.—(AP)—“Fifteen million stamp collectors in this country are slowly going ‘stamp-happy’ from a combination of high-priced foreign stamps and U. S. fancy issues now flooding the market.”

Within the last six months Congress has authorized 27 special postage stamps honoring such groups as the five civilized Indians, the Rough Riders and even the founder of the Flanders Field poppy. The end seems nowhere in sight.

Harry L. Lindquist, editor and publisher of stamps magazine and other philatelic publications says “at the rate these stamps are being offered up in Congress, it surely will become evident even to our congressmen that they are making a joke out of our postal system.”

It all started when Congressmen began to pass bills ordering issue certain commemorative postage stamps. Previously only the post office determined which stamps were to be issued. Usually this number amounted to eight or nine stamps a year.

Stamp collectors are not incensed because of the abundance of new stamps. Most are only three or five-centers and the total cost for all the new U. S. stamps in one year would not be more than a dollar.

It is “worthiness” of the commemoratives that is distributing the philatelic mind.

When a stamp honoring the poultry industry, sometimes called the “hen stamp,” cackled onto the market, the dairy industry, coal industry and the money industry asked for similar issues.

The Girl Scouts of America are soon to be honored by a new stamp. The Boy Scouts were turned down on their 25th anniversary a few years back.

The Swedish pioneers who helped settle the midwest a century ago were given a special stamp last June—even though the president had vetoed the bill.

“It is obvious,” Lindquist said, “that if one industry or nationality is honored, there is very little excuse for not similarly honoring every other industry or nationality in the U. S.”

“One solution to this would be to issue sheets of 100 stamps, with each of the 100 subjects bearing a different design, thus covering 100 industries or nationalities in one sheet!”

On top of this domestic controversy, foreign nations have been issuing stamps that have caused some collectors to toss away their albums in despair.

The face values of some of these issues are priced too high for normal native consumption. These stamps aim at the American pocketbook.

For example, Great Britain put out a set of two stamps honoring the silver wedding anniversary of King George and Queen Elizabeth. So did 48 crown colonies and possessions. One of the stamps had a face value of 1£ ($4.02).

Some folks in Europe are even sending postage stamps to American friends and dealers in exchange for a pound of coffee or a can of beans.

When You Sell Your Crops . . .

You do more than sell bushels of grain, tons of hay, or bales of cotton. You are actually selling out of your farm land the fertility that it took to grow them.

Calcium and magnesium (lime) are two of the important plant-food elements that all crops feed on. Some are heavier feeders than others. Alfalfa requires a lot—the equivalent of 100 pounds of limestone in each ton of hay—so do clover and the other legumes.

Keep your farm productive and profitable by replacing what you take out of your soil.

We shall be pleased to supply the limestone for your entire farm or any part of it. Let us quote you.

about that Carol either,” he added. “It’s been my observation that the burnt child gets the most grease. But that’s the way it is in this world.”

His words brought another memory to Andrew’s mind, and he laughed suddenly. He saw Eph standing over the prostrate figure of Ralph. “I thought you said you couldn’t fight,” he chuckled now. “I thought you said you were as meek as butter. Pretty strong butter, if you ask me!”

Eph sighed. “You suggest I should eat my words?” he inquired sadly. “Heck, I been doing that all my life. That’s why I’m so fat!”

Andrew had no trouble finding men to make the excavation for his house, but when it came to masons and carpenters, he was not so fortunate. All the best men in those lines were already working for Baron on his development project, and this time Andrew had no legitimate excuse to get any of them away from the contractor.

Wyle said, seeing him on the cleared piece of land where Andrew’s first house was to rise, “I’d rather be working for you, Mr. Paulson, but you see how it is.” And Andrew did see that it was the trouble.

In the meantime, the gondolas arrived with the lumber from the shipyard. It was splendidly weathered wood. He clambered over the freight cars, examining it, measuring it, estimating what he could get out of it, and was extraordinarily pleased with what he saw.

The ends where the bolts had been would have to be sawed off, but for the most part he had something any builder might well envy him.

Mrs. Potts said, “I hear you’ve got some prime wood, Andy.” And Sayre hailed him as he went by one morning. “Everybody in town is talking about your clever move, son. Seems you had a real inspiration.”

“Is the living room wainscoting oozing yet?” Andrew asked with a grin. But he was more than a little anxious, too.

“Not yet and when it does, I’ll remember I’ve no call for complaint,” the older man said.

Everyone, it seemed, knew of his lumber pile on the siding, and he discovered again that the New England appreciation of a true bargain was always present in these people. He was beginning to feel the same way himself. But not entirely.

When Mrs. Potts, less disturbed this time, handed him another yellow envelope one hot July noon, he learned how much he had changed in these past few months. It was a message from Bigelow again. It read:

“Am sending this for Jessup, rather than give your address. He is supervising the reconstruction of the old house into a sanitarium for tubercular patients, as per Mr. Delacourt’s will.” (Andrew was amused how cleverly Bigelow had

Umpire Ousted After Flare-up

Indian-Senator Game Full of Fireworks

WASHINGTON, July 21—(P)—Umpire Bill McGowan was on the suspended list today while American League officials investigated his conduct in the Monday night game between Cleveland and Washington.

McGowan's suspension, announced in Chicago yesterday by League President Will Harridge, followed a vigorous complaint by Joe Kuhel, manager of the Senators.

Kuhel claimed the umpire had thrown a baseball at outfielder Ed Stewart and had cursed him, and that he also had heaved a strike-balls indicator at pitcher Rae Scarborough.

Said McGowan: Not so. Before the game was over Kuhel had been bounced from the park for the first time in his 19 years in the Majors and a side argument had developed between Washington coach Sam West and Umpire Cal Hubbard over whether Cleveland's ancient reliever, Satchel Paige, had balked with men on first and third.

West quoted Hubbard as saying Paige had balked, all right, but he, Hubbard wouldn't call it because "that isn't my job." A balk would have added one Washington run in the game which Cleveland eventually won in extra innings.

McGowan is 52 and has 24 years as an American League umpire.

One more ballplayer is being quoted on the Monday night dispute. That's Cleveland's manager Lou Boudreau. He said:

"Me? I didn't see anything. We won."

Jewish Problem Is Discussed at Rotary Meeting

Columbus Rabbi Outlines Policies And Traditions

"Isaiah tells us in the Bible that the Jews must return to Jerusalem and Palestine before any real age of peace and good will can be established," Rabbi Ryback of the Israel Temple in Columbus told Washington C. H. Rotarians at their regular luncheon meeting at the Country Club Tuesday noon.

In discussing the Palestine problem of today, Rabbi Ryback said the religious idea plays a simple role in Jewish and Christian philosophies of life. "It was the providence of God to scatter the Jews," he said, "and now to bring them back is a vital factor in establishing the age of peace and brotherhood."

"Politically speaking," the rabbi said, "the American Jew follows the pattern of the American foreign policy and the state department. The American Jew, therefore, favors the establishment of the state of Israel. However, he still remains loyal to his own country politically. He is only loyal to Israel religiously and culturally. Political loyalty belongs to those displaced Jews who have no country to call their own. The American Jew is first of all an American citizen."

The humanitarian side of the Jewish problem revolves in the United States on the basis of the many Jews who were tortured and killed in the death chambers in Poland and Germany. More than six million Jews were killed in Europe during the war, the Rotarians were told. At the present time, more than a quarter million Jews do not hold citizenship in any country.

For that reason, the state of Israel was established, Rabbi Ryback said. The new state is the only ray of light for those displaced persons—the only place they can call home. Palestine has been associated with Jews and Jewish traditions for many centuries, he said.

Rabbi Ryback pointed out that the new state will cause no great exodus of Jews already established in other lands. Only those who have no homes will go there and that number is expected to be less than one-half million. He also said that since the leading nations of the world had shut their doors to the displaced persons, Israel is the only hope.

"Palestine occupies an area about the size of Vermont and not all of the country is tillable," Rabbi Ryback said. "About half of the country has been allotted to the Jews for their state of Israel and the other half has been left for the Arabs. Although the Arabs already have vast territories, they are fighting for the small bit of land which has been given the Jews on the pretext of protecting Arab nationals in Palestine."

The rabbi said that the Arabs and Jews were getting along all right until the partition question arose in the UN. Prior to that, the Arabs were glad to have the Jews in Palestine because they were raising the standard of living, he said. However, the great influx of Arabs into Palestine now make it appear predominantly Arab.

Rabbi Ryback was introduced by Byron Layman, program chairman for this month. The president, Rev. John K. Abernethy, expressed the club's appreciation for the message at the close of the rabbi's talk.

Double Funeral Held For Crash Victims

Double funeral services for Lawrence Pollard and his son, Carl, who were killed near Dodsonville Saturday in a truck accident, were held Tuesday at 1 P. M. in the Penniston Chapel in Idaho, Pike County.

Rev. C. H. Dett, pastor of the Washington C. H. Church of Christ in Christian Union, who was in charge of the services, delivered the sermon. He was assisted by Rev. E. C. Van Meter, pastor of the Morgantown Church of Christ in Christian Union, who read the Scripture and offered prayer. An obituary was prepared and read by Mr. W. C. Roberts.

The Ladies' Quartet from the Morgantown church sang three hymns, "Going Down the Valley," "Precious Memories" and "What A Friend We Have in Jesus."

The services were very largely attended and there were many floral offerings.

Burial was in the family lot in the Mt. Latham Cemetery near Idaho. The pallbearers, all fellow workers of Pollard, were G. D. Baker, Frank Baker, Fred Johnson, Ervin Barch, Harold Sprague, Marshall Flowers, Forest Jordan, Roy Mallow, Richard Bryan, Richard Wilson, Victor Jordan and John Fairley.

Funeral Services Held For George W. Andres

Rehearsals Set For Bible Play; Theme Is Told

Commandments' Story Related in Drama To Be Staged August 1

Rehearsals will start at once on the Biblical drama, "The Light Eternal," to be presented August 1, it was announced Wednesday.

Names of cast members have not yet been announced.

Miss Rose-Marie McCarthy, director, said she is "most enthusiastic" over the possibilities for an outstanding production. The show will be staged at the Fairground, at 8:30 P. M. one week from Sunday.

The Fayette County Ministerial Association, sponsor of the event, hopes to make it the grand finale to five days of the County Fair, which closes Saturday.

According to Miss McCarthy, "The Light Eternal," is a spectacular Biblical dramatization in which many prominent people of the community will take part.

It depicts the most important events leading up to and connected with the giving of the Ten Commandments. In Miss McCarthy's opinion, "it can only be compared with the famous Passion Play."

"It combines the finest in gripping drama, glorious music and authentic Biblical costuming, to give Washington C. H. the most unusual and spectacular type of entertainment it has ever had," she declared.

Wherever the production has been staged in the past, it has drawn packed houses and enthusiastic comments from religious leaders.

One of the most unusual things about the production is that Fayette County people taking part will play important dramatic roles that carry the audience along with a great deal of suspense and highly-effective dramatic action.

Timely Message Included
"The Light Eternal," in Miss McCarthy's opinion, is particularly adapted and suitable for adults, and at the same time carries a worthwhile and timely message of great educational value to young people.

The drama has a modern angle all the way through, as the story is supposedly being told by a grandfather to his grandchildren and their parents.

It is the hope of the Ministerial Association, Miss McCarthy, the cast and chorus that "something worthwhile will be contributed to the cultural and spiritual life of the city."

The theme of the play shows a need for returning to the fundamental truths, and that the youth of today must be taught the old Biblical laws of Christ if they are to live in harmony in the communities and if the nation is to retain the greatness which makes it outstanding among nations.

The custom of embalming had its origin in ancient Egypt.

Boosting of Fines For Drunken Driving Backed by WCTU

The policies of Police Judge Robert H. Sites of Washington C. H. in upping fines for drunken driving in an attempt to slash the number of violations today had the support of the Bloomingburg WCTU.

The organization expressed its viewpoint in a letter to the Record-Herald. A similar letter has been dispatched to Judge Sites.

Through its secretary, the WCTU declared:

"We have read in your paper of the good work Police Judge Sites is doing in regard to the fining of drunken drivers.

"We, the WCTU of Bloomingburg, hope he will continue the good work.

"We wish you to know we heartily approve of the stand he is taking."

Man Is Fined $100 For Drunk Driving

Everett Johnson, 1115 Columbus Avenue, pleaded guilty Tuesday to drunken driving before Judge H. M. Rankin in common pleas court and was fined $100.

He also will have his driver's license suspended one year.

Johnson was arrested Saturday on the CCC Highway near Jasper Mills, the sheriff's office reported.

Silcott Is Chosen as New Vice President

Harry Silcott has been elected vice president of the Washington Park Association board.

His election came at the board's latest meeting, according to an announcement Wednesday. Silcott succeeds Willard Wilson, who resigned from the park board.

Named to the membership vacancy caused by Wilson's resignation was Eli Craig, men's department manager of the Craig Brothers Company.

Other officers of the board were reelected. Carroll Halliday is president; L. M. Hayes, secretary and Glenn Woodmansee, treasurer. Fifth member of the board is Harold McCord.

The Washington Park Association owns the former Perry's Park and is working on plans for

Prize Hereford Has Been Selected

The purebred Hereford heifer which will be awarded to the boy or girl showing the top Hereford steer at the Fayette County Fair next week has been selected, officials of the Fayette County Hereford Association announced today.

The purchasing committee, composed of Carl McCoy, Emerson Marting, Will Braun and Homer L. McCoy, visited every herd in the county and finally selected a heifer from the herd of Homer L. McCoy & Son.

The heifer, which will be awarded at 10:40 P. M. Thursday night of the Fair, is being given by the association to promote Hereford breeding in the county.
